Advisory Committee on Animal Feedingstuffs

To interested parties

20 August 2012

Dear Colleague,

ACAF Open Meeting: 19 September 2012 Aviation House, London

The Advisory Committee on Animal Feedingstuffs (ACAF) is a committee of experts which advises on the safety and use of animal feed and feeding practices, with particular emphasis on protecting human health and with reference to new technical developments and new feed materials.

The Committee's 59th meeting will take place in open session on 19 September in Aviation House, London. The meeting will start at 10.30am and will finish approximately at 3.15pm. This is an opportunity for interested parties and members of the public to observe how this government advisory committee operates, and to follow the debate on a range of animal feed issues. A provisional agenda is attached for your information and further details about the Committee can be found at: http://acaf.food.gov.uk//

At the close of the meeting observers will be given a chance to ask questions of the Committee.

There is no entrance fee but places must be booked in advance. If you would like to attend the open meeting please complete the registration form and return it to me at the address below by Thursday 13 September. Alternatively, you can e-mail me at: raj.pal@foodstandards.gsi.gov.uk

A map showing the location of Aviation House and a fact sheet on ACAF are also enclosed for your information.

Yours faithfully,

Raj Pal
