ACAF Open Meeting: 3 March 2010 Aviation House London

The Advisory Committee on Animal Feedingstuffs (ACAF) is a committee of experts which advises on the safety and use of animal feed and feeding practices, with particular emphasis on protecting human health and with reference to new technical developments and new feed materials.

The Committee's 49th meeting will take place on 3 March 2010, in open session, at the address shown below. This is an opportunity for interested parties and members of the public to observe how this government advisory committee operates, and to follow the debate on a range of animal feed issues. At the close of the meeting observers will be given a chance to ask questions of the Committee. A draft agenda is attached for your information and further details about the Committee can be found at:

<http://acaf.food.gov.uk//>

There is no entrance fee but places must be booked in advance using the attached registration form. A map and a fact sheet on ACAF are also enclosed for information. If you would like to attend the open meeting please complete the registration form and return it to me at the address below by 26 February 2010.
